NEARLY CUT IN TWO

A Maysville Man's Terrible Fate in Cincinnati Sawmill

Alonzo Sturgeon aged 20, formerly of this city, was instantly killed Tuesday at the C. Crane & Co. sawmill in Cincinnati.

He was lounging on a movable carriage used in conveying lumber to the huge saws when, without warning, the machinery started and he was hurled against the buzzing saw.

His hody was all but cut in two before the machine could be stopped.

Sturgeon had been sitting on the carriage for several minutes before the accident in company with several companious.

The machinery had been stopped for repairs and all the men were unaware of the fact that the break had been repaired and that a test was to be made.

The jolt of the start knocked Sturgeon's companions from the carriage, but he was not so fortunate and in an instant he was dashed against the sharp teeth.

They gripped his clothing and he was raised to the top of the revolving disk, where his body hung subject to the teeth of the saw until the cries of workmen caused the engineer to shut off the power. His death was instantaneous.

BRACKEN ASSOCIATION

Meetings of Much Interest at the First Baptist Church

The Bracken Association met at 10 o'clock yesterday in the First Baptist Church of this

W. R. Nunnelly of Mt. Sterling was elected

The annual sermon was preached at 11 o'clock by Rev. A. H. Ellis. After the sermon the Church letters were read and a handsome delegation was found to be on hand.

Then followed a magnificent lunch served by the Baptist ladies in the upper parlor of the Church. This was said to be much after tho hearts of the visitors.

The afternoon meetings were given to reports nud discussions on our various charity works and on schools and colleges. Earnest and vigorous speeches were made by Dr. J. G. Bow, J. C. Holmes, J. R. Hobbs, J. J. Taylor and others. The reports showed that the Baptists are on the upgrade in the work of henevolence. Withal they had a very profitable and Interesting day. Quite a warm debate followed the report on Bracken Academy.

The evening session was at high tide, Dr. J. J. Taylor of Georgetown College delivered a great address on "Baptists and Education." Then came that prince of temperance speakers, Dr. G. W. Young. 'Tis needless to say that he swept everything before him. The fact is, Young is a cyclone let loose against sin.

The meetings continue today, most of the time being given to a discussion of mission work, Rev. W. W. Horner of Mayslick being the chief speaker.

Tonight Dr. W. P. Harvey will deliver his great address on "A Century of Baptist Achievements in Kentucky."

Special attention is called to the Ludies' Missionary Meeting this afternoon at 2 o'clock His remains were brought here yesterday in the First Presbyterian Church. Everybody morning and interred in the Maysville Cometery. | cordially welcomed.

A Dignified Reply to Mc-Quown's Attack

Many Gross Misstatements of McQuown Are Corrected

Fair-Minded People Should Read This in the Legislature to the vote of Louisville; or, Paper Carefully Louisville Courier-Journal.

To the Editor of The Courier-Journal: Just prior to each of the triels of Caleb Powers in the Circuit Court, which trials, by s me curious coincidence, have always taken place just prior to an Importent election, and while his appeals have been pending in the Court of Appeals, and just prior to an election, a part of the Democratic press of this state, through such instrumentalities as Mr. McQuown uses, has sought to inflame the public mind against Caich Powers by misrepresentation and perversion of the record, the purpose and effect of which has been to make it impossible for Powers to obtain a

It is natural, and to some extent to be expected, that Mr. Mctguown should feel as he apparently does toward his dead friend and former client, and to say extravagant things about him, but I leave it to every honest person who knows anything of the political history of Kentacky for the past five or six years if Mr. Mc-Quown's statements as to the character of Mr. Goebel, in the first sentences of his recent publication, are not enficient to discredit that en-

Caleb Powers has been in prison for ever four years. He is now under sentence of death. His appeal from the jndgment condemning him to death is under submission to the Court of Appeals. Mr. McQuown, as one of Goebel's friends and admirers, is entitled to share with his Democratic friends whatever pleasure comes to them from Powers's conviction, and if he had any part in securing thet conviction he is entitled to such credit(?) as may attach thereto, prosecution, with all the machinery of the but the public must pass upon the propriety | Court at its command, have to call to its as of Mr. McQuown, as Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, under the existing conditions of the case, prosecuting Mr. Powers through the medium of a partisan press and by guilty? Wouldn't it have been better, if the nnfair statements, many of which are not a part trials of Powers were to be perfectly fair, to ter acquainted with the record than Mr. Mc-Quown, I am impelled by a sense of justice to reply to a few of the most glaring instances of unfairnese and misrepresentation in the article recently printed in The Courier-Journal and Times by Mr. McQuown.

The author of that article justifies this present attack upon Mr. Powers because of the publication in McClure's Magazine in March of nn article hy Mr. Samuel H. Adams, a Democrat and a gentleman of the highest standing, who was sent to Kentucky to write an impartial history of the Powers case. Mr. Powers knew nothing of his coming; Mr. Powers was in no wise responsible for the article or its publication, and Mr. McQuown is, therefore, not justified in making this attack upon him for of Powers's office, when as a matter of fact

TISSUE BALLOTS AND INTIMIDATION.

There can be but one purpose in his doing so and that is to arouse again for political purposes that bitter partisan spirit engendered by the centest four years ago. There is running all through Mr. McQuown's article a specions and etudied intimation of a desire for fairness, the object of which is to deceive the public into believing that the etatements of the author are authentic and reliable. As an illustration, Mr. McQuown says that one of the causee of the contest for the governorship was the fact that 'gross frauds perpetrated by the use of tissue ballots in the Republican counties in Eastern Kentncky were discovered." Wouldn't it have been fairer for him to have stated that it was shown there were more of the same kind of ballote discovered in etrong Democratic counties, among them Mr. McQuown's native county of Barren; and that Democrats decided that where such ballots were voted for Taylor they were illegal, hut if voted for Goehelthey were legal and were counted; that there was no claim made on the contest that a vote had been lost or changed by reason of the use of such ballots and that the law of thie state is that ballots shall not be thrown out for any technical defect or fault, if the intention of the voter can

Again, he says: "Military intimidation prevented a free and fair expression of the will of the voters elsewhere in the etate." Where? Why doesn't he say that the charge was made principally as to the city of Louisville; that not a coldier left the armory during the hours of election except to get his meals, and then in citizens' clothes and unarmed. He might also have stated truthfully that it had often been the case that some of the Louisville militia had on election days been so kept in the armory to be called on in case of emergency, and no charge of "military intimidation" made hy resson of such fact, and then add that out of nearly 50,000 votors in Louisville not a man could be found who was intlmidated by anyone. or kept from voting; and the further fact that | lu Louisville it was in the strongest Republican witness that Powers ever made use of such an to that the Democrats showed in there- expression or anything like it?

FACTS CLEARLY STATED turns as having made remarkable and astounding sains aver proving leading and astounding sains are the sains and astounding sains are the sains are t ing goins over previous elections, and then he might have quoted the editorial published in The Courier-Journal the day after the election, stating in substance that there had never been a fairer or quieter election in this city; and why didn't he state that the vote of Louisville in this same election was thrown out in the contest for the governorship by the vote of Democrats in the Legislature who owed their seats in other words, that it was decided that it was > crats to the Legislature from Louisville, who were voting in the Taylor-Goebel contest there. Wouldn't it have been franker and fairer for Mr. McQuown in this connection, as to why the contest was really made, to have quoted the fable of the Wolf and the Lamb, and admitted that the Wolf knew he had the power to eat throw out that same vote when it elected Demowere mere subterfuces? But it is not my desire or intention to disuss the political phase of Mr. McQuown's article, except so far as he has injected politics into his discussion of the Powers case, nor is it my purpose to discuss the guilt or innocence of Mr. Powers, for as ene of his counsel it might be deemed improper on my part, at this time, to do so, but only to point out a few instances (most of which are omitted in the Mc-Clure's Magazine article) to show how Mr. Mc-Quown might have been fair, if he had so desired, and tending to show the unfairness of the trials of Caleb Powers.

THE POWERS TRIALS

In the first place if Powers is guilty, as Mr. McQuown says why deny him a fair triel? If there are no politics in the prosecution, ouidn't a conviction be had in the customary way? If he be guilty, as claimed by Mr. Mc-Quown, why is it necessary to resort to such shameless practices as perjury, subornetion of perjury, intimidation and packing of Juries to convict him? Those things are sometimes re sorted to by criminals and their attorneys to defeat the ends of justice, but why does the sistance perjurers, criminals and persons of notoriously bad character to convict a man whom Mr. McQuown says is so certainly have allowed the regularly constituted anthorities to have prosecuted him, assisted by Mr. McQuown, if he had so desired, and other Kentucky attorneys, than to have imported a notorions criminal lawyer from a neighboring state, whose connection with the case from its very inception tended to arouse a suspicion, afterward confirmed, and to discredit the integrity of the prosecution.

Wouldn't it have been fairer in discussing the credibility and reliability of the testimony of the witnesses for the prosecution, if Mr. McQuown had stated who it was that procured the attendance of the witness, George F. Weaver, the "strolling barber," on Powers's first trinl, who stated that he was in the Statehouse grounds at Frankfort when Goebel was shot, and saw a rifle pointed from the window four witnesses testified that at the very honr that Goebel was shot, Weaver was at Grayson Springs, Ky., -- nearly two hundred miles from Frankfort-one of these witnesses positively stating that he received at Grayson Springs from Weaver'e own lips the news of Goebel's having been shot within an honr after it happened, and wouldn't it have been fairer for Mr. McQuown to have stated that the Commonwealth's Attorney refused to have Weaver arrested for such flagrant perjury, and that one of Powers' attorneys had him arrested? Wouldn't it have been fairer if Mr. McQuown had told the public who put up the money for procuring bond for Weaver, thereby enabling him to escape punishment for hie perjury, and why it was that he was allowed to escape? Oh! no! the Weaver episode was one of the most shameless, disreputable, outrageous and disgusting occurrences that ever took place in Courthouse; and that is why he is silent on

And then again, why doesn't Mr. McQuown tell the public that Finley B. Anderson, who appeared as one of the star witnesses for the prosecution at the first trial, afterward gave a voluntary affidavit that his testimony was false, and had been fixed up for him; and that he had received money for his perjury, and why it was that Anderson was never again used as a witness for the Commonwealth nor prosecuted for his admitted crime? Mr. McQuown professes to quote, but misquotes, from the record those portione that are sensational and that are calculated to injure Mr. Powers in the eyes of the public and in the minds of those who do not know the sources of this teetimony or the character of the witnesses. As an illustration, he attributes to Mr. Powers the use of the following language: "We have already cansulted Taylor; he says he can't call out the troops until we act, then he has the right to call them out."

Why doesn't Mr. McQuown state what witness testified to this fact, and where such evidence can be found, for I am perfectly frank in saying that there is not in the record of any of Powers's trials any testimony of any Wouldn't it have been feirer for Mr. Mc-Quown in making his quotations from what the various witnesses said to have stated that Wharton Golden eald so and so, and that Will H. Culton said so and so, and then ndded thet it also appeared in the record that this same Mr. Golden had stated, in the presence of numerous persons and on numerous occasions, that he was getting n part of the $100,000 reward fund, and also that "Powers was as innocent of the crime as nu unborn bahe," and that although Mr. Golden is under indictment for the same offense ns Mr. Powers, he is allowed to go where he pleases and do what he pleases, so that he always shows up at the trinl?

And Mr. McQuown might elso have added that the record showed that this same witness (Golden) testilled that he knew of no plan to kill Goebel from Powers's office, and had never heard such a thing discussed.

all right to throw out the vote of Louisville that In quoting from Culton's testimony, wouldn't was cast for Taylor, but it was all wrong to it have been fairer for Mr. McQuown to have added that Mr. Culton was a gentleman who, while in Auditor Stone's office, was guilty of misappropriating funds, end is now a fugitive from justice, under the charge of forgery, and before he became a fugitive he wes, although under indictment the same as Powers, allowed to go and do as he pleased, provided he would be on hand when needed, and to have stated the Lamb, and that his excuses for doing so that the record shows in more than one instance where this same Mr. Culton has said that he had a written contract with the prosecution for his evidence, and he might have told what Culton said about having "sold them a gold brick." lle might have quoted from Mr. Culton's testimony to show that Culton has testlifed that he had never had a conversation with Mr. Powers prior to the killing of Goebel, relative to that matter, and never anticipated anything of the kind at any time before the shooting.

Wouldn't it have been fairer for Mr. Mc Quown to have stated that while it is almost without exception the rule in Circuit Courts of this state that persons accused of crime whose testimony is desired by the Commonwealth in cases against others so accused, the desired witnesses are relieved from all danger of punishment for their crime by the dismissal of the indictments against them before they are placed upon the stand, such course was not pursued in the Powers case, but Culton, Golden, Noaks and others were "allowed" to testify "with ropes around their necks," and he might have told the public how an occasional twist of those ropes "refreshed" the memories of those wit-

Wouldn't it have been fairer had he celled the public mind to the fact that the rule adopted on these trials has been to let the witnesses understand that "when you do as we want you to you are free from danger of any harm, no matter what your crime, even to the killing of a Governor; but when you are unwilling to do as we want you to we will hang you, if we detaining "evidence?"

mitted fact that the shot was fired from the point. Wouldn't it have been fairer for him to call the public's attention to the improbability of Mr. Powers consenting to such an arrangement as this -- an arrangement which must of necessity immediately attract attention to him? Does Mr. McQnown expect the public to believe that if he himself had entered into a conspiracy to kill a man, and that it was his purpose to be done, that he would deliberately attract attenparlor window?

THE MOUNTAIN ARMY.

The indictment Mr. McQuown truthfully says charges a conspiracy to kill Goebel, and adds the vital queetion is, therefore, was there such a conspiracy, and if eo, was Powers a party to conspiracy and tells that "Powers when brought to trial end confronted with the overwhelming vidence of his connection with the organization and transportation of this murderous band of lawness men to Frankfort, admitted his agency in bringing the men there." If he had known the facts, and had been impartial, he would not have tried to mislead the public by such statein procuring them was open and known at all to admit this fact. times, and that never, even before his arrest. did he deny or conceas it. He might also have emphasized the fact that this "murderous band of lawless men" did not kill Goebel, and instead of saying they instituted a reign of terror in Frankfort it would have been fairer for him to have etated that Goebel passed through this body of men while they were aseembled in mass meeting in the Statehouse yard and was not subjected to even a disrespectful remark. He might also have stated a fact, upon which there can be no possible chance for difference of opinion, for it is a part of the record made and established by the prosecution alone, that of the five persons indicted as principale in killing Goebel, not one of them came with the mountain army" or had any connection with it.

As an illustration tending to show the meane resorted to for the purpose of placing the assassin in Caleh Powers's office wouldn't it have been fairer for McQuown to have stated that it was not charged that the shot came from a window In that office until two weeks after Goebel was shot, and not until after a fresh bullet hole was 'discovered" in a hackberry tree about 200 feet away from that window, and that as soon as that "discovery" was made a Surveyor, D. JUDGE CANTRILL'S RULINGS.

Again, Mr. McQnown speaks of the fairness and impartiality of Judge Cantrill. Why didn't he dieclose the fact in this connection that when an indictment against Taylor was returned, although Section 121 of the Criminal Code provides that "the indictment must be presented by the Foremen in the presence of the Grand Jury to the Court, filed with the Clerk and remain in his office as a public record," Judge Cantrill ordered the Clerk of the Court not to make any record of the return of the indictment, and although every possible effort was made to find ont if Taylor had been really indicted, the Judge did not allow it to appear of record until ten daye after the Supreme Court of the United States had decided it could not take jurisdiction to try the case involving the Governorship.

Why didn't he also tell it as an undieputed fact that on the first trial, after the names vice at the special term of the Scott Circuit in the wheel, having heen placed there by unprejudiced Jury Commissioners, before even the election of Taylor was had, Judge Cantrill, although requested by the defence to do so, refused to drew any more names from that wheel, but had the officer bring in a special list of men | to uphold the verdict." of the men so brought in were Goebel partisans. and wouldn't It have been fairer for him, in referring to Judge Cantrill's impartiality and fairness, to have quoted from the affidavit filed by the defense, swearing Judge Cantrill off the

It has been as-Mr. McQuown etates that when Powers re- certained that Porter's first Republican vote turned to Frankfort on the day of the shooting was cast for McKinley in 1896, as was the case ance. That his fears were well founded the Jury, or stood for acquittal, no matter what his opinion might be. This eame Porter, after the verdict had been rendered, stated in the presence of responsible persons these facts and consented to have them embodied in an affidavit to be used on the motion for a new trial, but subsequently refused to do so because of a fear of the consequences if he did, stating that he knew the prosecution could do anything it deeired either to him or Powers, expressing bls. sympathy for Powers and his helpless condition. but etating that his first duty was to hie wifeand children. Further comment is unnecessary.

Now as to Hanley, the only other "Republican" Juryman named by Mr. McQuown. Wouldn't it have been fairer for Mr. McQuown to have stated that while Hanley was sitting on the Jury that imposed the death centence on Powers there was hanging in his house a picture of the murdered Goebel as an object of private worship, and that he had only a short time prior to the trial taken part in an election in his pre-

"No politics in this case," says Mr. McQuown. Why, then, was it that after Judge Cantrill had refused to vacate the bench, on the second trial, and it was known that the Court of Appeals was bound to reverse the case for that and other reasons (which they did,) a Democratic Legislature changed the law that had been on the Statnte books of this state for more than fifty years, and gave to the Governor the right to appoint n Special Judge where the Commonwealth and the defense could not agree, taking from the bar the right to elect such Special Judge, as had always been the custom?

Mr. McQuown also makes much of the "fact" that the foreman on the second Jury was a classmate of Powers's. Is this a part of the record? Wouldn't it have been fairer, when he went outaide of the record, for him to have told the fact with him he never knew it?

I wish now to repeat what I have always honestly believed and contended for, and that is that when the truthful history of this terrible crime is finally written-nnd it will be some day -it will be established that the only conspiracy proven by the records of these trials is the one Appeals has never passed upon the question of formed to unlawfully take human lives for political purposes -- a conspiracy more horrible to contemplate than that charged in the indictment against Powers.

Let me in closing say that Powers may be hung on this charge, but if he is, the darkest chapter in Kentucky's history will have been closed, and those who cause his death may, when their extended bloodstained hands are pleading, for justice, shrink back from the contemplation of those stains and cry in vain, as did Lady Macbeth -"Out, damned spot, out!"

The husiness man who spends his money for rinting in Louisville, or Cincinnati, or Chicago or New York, puts that money into the hands of people who never did, nor ever will, spend a dol-

Did you ever think of that?

Now, in order that a good deal of this mone; may be kept at home, and spent by home workmen and home employers with home merchants, The Ledger Printery has secured the handomest line of Calendars ever seen in this city. with a price limit to suit every need.

Mr. Richard L. Miles, The Ledger Printery's expert Printer, will call on you in a few days, dazzle your eyes with the beauties and tickle your bank account with the prices.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Roth of Dayton, O., are Carbonate

In the economy of the human leady carbon is of value as a heat and tissue producer; oxygen is essential to the enrictment and proper circulation of the blood. In combination as a gas in the proportions of one part carbon to two parts oxygen they serve as a ready solvent of the mineral ingredients of food, preparing them for absorption by the tissues of the digestive organs. A simple method of carbonating drinks in the household is by the use of Sparklets. They are applied the not only to water, but to any leverage, such as wine, nilk, tea, etc. We will be glad

This is the month in which to buy a farm. I have some very attractive bargains. It will save you money to come to my office and let me show you my stock before you look elsewhere. One listed with me last week belonging to Elder Bela Metcalfe, located near Northfork, Ky., should receive your immediate attention; contains 102 acres, is located about one-fourth of a mile from Horseshoe Pike, about seven miles from Maysville; has a two-story frame shingle roof dwelling of eight rooms, also veranda and porch; tobacco barn 108×40, corn-crib and all necessary outbuildings; fences in good repair; about 25 acres in grass. This property adjoins the farms of Mrs. Steers, James Brittain and Henry Keith. If you want a good farm this is one that you can buy'at a reasonable price.

We do not consider it any trouble to show you our list, and shall be pleased to have you call if you are thinking of buying real estate.
